

USOPC
SPORTS MEDICINE

DR. JONATHAN FINNOFF

Jonathan Finnoff, DO, FACSM, FAMSSM, RMSK is the Chief Medical Officer for the United States Olympic & Paralympic Committee and a professor in the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Mayo Clinic College of Medicine and Science in Rochester, Minn. Dr. Finnoff is board certified in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, and Sports Medicine.

Dr. Finnoff has published over 100 articles in peer-reviewed journals, authored multiple book chapters, and co-edited a book with Mark Harrast, MD, titled “Sports Medicine: Study Guide and Review for Boards”. He has been a faculty member or course director for numerous national and international conferences and previously served on the boards for the American Academy of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (AAPM&R) and the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine (AMSSM). Dr. Finnoff was a team physician for the U.S. Ski Team for nearly two decades and has provided medical coverage at the Olympic Winter Games, Paralympic Winter Games, world cups, and world championships. Dr. Finnoff’s clinical interests are broad and include multiple sports medicine topics, including advanced diagnostic and interventional ultrasound and exertional leg pain.